

From Our Father's Heart

As I look over the land, it is still very good.
When I first said those words,
I knew of this day with all of its characteristics.
I knew that there would be wars, hatred,
and all of the other ills present.
I called things good then; I call them good now,
because I saw then and I see now
the overall result of My creation.
Soon, you who are faithful will be with Me.
You will be refined, loyal, and trustworthy.
You will love each other,
cherish My Word, and understand all that has happened.
You will understand the fullness of My plan
and delight in Me.
We will share all of the other plans
of which I have intended you to be a part.
We will spend eternities in a wondrous love adventure together.
That is good!
That is still very good!

Genesis 1:31 NIV God saw all that he had made, and it was very good.

Genesis 1:31 AMP And God saw everything that He had made, and behold, it was very good (suitable, pleasant) and He approved it completely...

Most of us are so short-sighted that we rarely step back from those things that are right in front of our faces to see the much larger perspective of our Father. He encounters no surprises. There is never a panic situation in heaven. To my knowledge, there has never been an emergency meeting of the Trinity. No matter how dire things may appear to our limited perspective, all is really in order as far as the Father is concerned.

As we move into these closing minutes of time, maybe we should begin to cultivate taste buds for the present plans of God and for His eternal plans, whatever they may be. The more I begin to know my Father, the more I am excited to spend many future times with Him. Maybe it's time to look past our own little worlds and decide to participate in our Lord's world with vigor.

This could get pretty exciting, Lord! Jim Corbett
