

These short teachings are designed as springboards for your personal teaching to others. They are meant to stimulate ideas and give a basis for you to expand upon.